DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Acknowledgment is made of applicant's claim for foreign priority under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d). The certified copy has been filed in parent Application No.

09/815,641, filed on 23 March 2001. Specification

2. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The specification is silent on the method of photography as a means to form the ramparts.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-5 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Applicant's admitted prior art.

Regarding claim 1, Applicant's prior art figures 4 and 5 disclose a method of manufacturing an organic electroluminescent (EL) element (no number) to form a pattern on a display panel comprising: providing a substrate (59 and 61); forming a first display electrode (50 and 62) having a continuous surface on the substrate; forming a rampart structure (52 and 64) on the substrate for exposing a portion of the first display electrode, wherein the portion of the first display electrode is the same as the pattern; forming at least one organic function layer (51 and 69) on the exposed portion of the first display electrode; and forming a second display electrode (53 and 66) on the organic function layer.

Regarding claim 2, Applicant's prior art teaches that the first display electrode is composed of a light transparent conductive material.

Regarding claim 3, Applicant's prior art teaches that the first display electrode is composed of indium tin oxide (ITO).

Regarding claim 4, Applicant's prior art teaches that the organic function layer further includes an emitting layer.

Regarding claim 5, Applicant's prior art teaches that the organic layer can include a hole injection layer (67), a hole transport layer, an electron transport and an electron injection layer.

Regarding claim 7, Applicant's prior art teaches that the second display electrode is metal layer.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Applicant's prior art in view of Nunomura (US 6,450,850).

Regarding claim 6, Applicant's admitted prior art discloses all of the claimed limitations except for the rampart being formed by photography.

Art Unit: 2879

Further regarding claim 6, Nunomura ('850) teaches forming partition walls (i.e. ramparts) by using a photography technique for the purpose of having a highly precision patterning of the walls.

Hence it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the photography technique of Nunomura in the display of the Applicant's admitted prior art for the purpose of having a highly precision patterning of the walls.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Nagayama et al. (US 5,742,129) discloses the state of the art for an organic EL display.
